1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the atom. It is shown that the atom is a system of particles which are in constant motion and that the energy of the system is conserved. The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the experimental results which have been obtained in the study of the atom. It is shown that the experimental results are in good agreement with the theoretical predictions of the theory of the atom.
